

CODE OF CONDUCT

We believe in a community where ALL feel welcome. A requirement for all Angular Denver participants is that you adhere to this goal, and abide by the guidance in this document.

To help all feel welcome and safe, we ask you to approach each interaction with your fellow community members as an opportunity to help each other grow. Your words and silence, your actions and inactions. Each of these can affect the way those around you will feel. With that in mind, it is best to take a considerate and empathetic approach with all those you meet in the Angular Denver community.

Each participant is expected to uphold this code of conduct. Whether you are inside the event hall, at one of our after hours events, away from the event with other community members, or interacting with the community throughout the year, the expectation of conduct is the same.

We've established a safe and confidential way for any participant to report a violation of this code of conduct. If you experience or see something that goes against these values, please reach out to us. We will get involved and help everyone feel comfortable again.

This Code of Conduct has been used with permission from ng-conf. A huge thanks to the ng-conf organizing team for setting the gold standard in the dev community.

How to report a violation: If you need to report a violation of the code of conduct, please reach out in one of the following three ways:

- Find a member of the conference staff, and tell them "I need to report a Code of Conduct violation": They will bring you to a safe place where the appropriate people will get involved.
- Send an email to info@angulardenver.com, and describe the violation. Please provide as much info as you feel comfortable providing.
- Call our dedicated number: 720-634-5798

Violations:

Avoid using language that can be offensive.

This includes topics that can make others feel threatened and/or uncomfortable. Insensitivity and/or jokes towards the following are violations of the code of conduct: gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size/shape, race, religion, age.

Avoid topics and issues that are polarizing.

These topics will very likely make others uncomfortable.

Avoid trying to further romantic interests.

Unwanted verbal advances or suggestive and flirtatious physical contact are the most certain ways to make someone feel threatened, uncomfortable and/or harassed.

Avoid dishonesty and bullying. Mean people are not welcome in this community.

We take violations very seriously. Violations may result in being removed from the conference and the Angular Denver community.
